

Wireless Number Portability... sould be come a reality.

I am hoping that implimenting this action will increase the quality of service.

I have had my cell phone for about 12 years... through two cell phone companies... I feel it should belong to me... and if my current provider can not provide quality service (which they can't) I should be able to move my service to someone who is willing to try harder.

ttfn Mark